CREAM OF NEWS.

Settling The Tie in Trigg.

CADIZ, Ky., Aug. 19.

This was the day selected by Wharton and Clark to settle their legislative tie. Immediately after dinner, the County Board, composed of County Judge, County Clerk and Sheriff and the two candidates met in the County Clerk's office. When inquiry was made of the candidates if they had any suggestions or had determined on any plan for settlement, they said they had not. They were then asked to retire and the board would adopt some plan. The following plan was adopted: (The statutes require the board to adopt the plan and settle by lot within the presence of the board and three other persons.) That inasmuch all the members of the board were democrats that Mr. Clark should have the selection of two friends and Wharton one to be present, that one of the friends selected by Clark and one the friends selected by Wharton should retire and make a figure on a paper with no other marks on it and fold the paper so as the figure thus made could not be seen; then make three figures on the other side of the paper one of which was to correspond to the one first made then return to the room and the candidates were each to mark out one of the three figures. The candidate marking out the figure corresponding to the one figure on the opposite side of the paper was to be declared elected. Should neither mark out the corresponding figure the first time, the same process was to be gone through until one or the other should hit the corresponding figure.

Mr. Clark selected S. T. Spieglund of Linton and James Lester, of near Canton; Mr. Wharton selected Col. Fenton Sims, Sims and Spieglund retired and Spieglund made the figure 3. The paper was folded and Sims made 9, 4, and 3. The board had decided that Wharton being the oldest should mark first which he did, marking out the figure 3 the corresponding figure, and Clark marked the figure 3. Thus it is 3 beats 9 and Wharton receives the certificate.

J. D. S.

Bethel Baptist Association.

Bethel Baptist Association, composed of churches in Christian, Todd, Logan and other counties, met at Guthrie Tuesday and continued until yesterday afternoon. The attendance was large and the meeting altogether one of much interest. Dr. Jno. D. Clardy and Rev. J. T. Barrow were re-elected moderators and clerk, respectively.

Robt. M. Woodbridge, livery and sale stable, Fritz' stand. Telephone 44.

Prof. H. O. Snow, of Madisonville, will move to Trenton to take charge of the school there.

A full supply of school books and school supplies just received at Buckner Leavelle's Drug Store.

Brown Lovell, the old man who was hurt in the explosion at Dawson, it is now thought, will recover.

This is the last week of the Flying Jenny. Every one should take another ride before it leaves.

Parents gladden the hearts of their little ones by giving them a nickel to ride upon the Flying Jenny.

A full supply of School Books and School Supplies just received at Buckner Leavelle's Drug Store.

People who have ridden upon the Flying Jenny pronounce it the most enjoyable amusement of the season.

Nolen & Pool's alligator sprang out of his tank and bit the arm of Henry Rutenbush, who was admiring him, Monday.

L. I. Buckner has two fine harness horses for sale cheap that can trot in three minutes or better. Also several good gentle ponies.

All persons indebted to me by note or account for fertilizer, will please call and settle at once, as I am forced to close up my business, D. A. Tandy.

Dr. J. A. Southall, of Hanson, Ky., has bought a house and lot in this city and will move here about Sept. 1, and locate for the practice of medicine.

Rev. Dr. Harbison, of Southwestern University, Clarksville, will preach at the Ninth street Presbyterian church next Sunday morning and evening.

Rev. R. R. J. has been appointed Presiding Elder of the Clarksville District, M. E. Conference, which place was made vacant by the death of Rev. J. W. Hill.

The suit of Nick Thompson against John Ellis for $300 on a settlement of a farming partnership, was tried by a jury Wednesday and decided in favor of the defendant.

The children had a party at Mr. J. D. Russell's last evening, which was largely attended. Refreshments of the most delicious kinds and in great variety were served.

J. H. Anderson, who is always on the lookout for bargains, bought at N. B. Shyer's stock of shoes Tuesday and proposes to give the public the benefit of the reduced prices paid for them.

The temperance workers will begin a camp meeting at Dawson, in the beautiful grove west of the town, on the 25th inst. Revs. Bow, Beauchamp, Benson and Zarecor are expected to be among the speakers present.

The late Thos. H. Corbin left no will. He had accumulated a handsome estate, which will all be inherited by his only child, Mr. J. Van Cleave. His son-in-law, who lived with him, was a full partner in the farming business and all of his personal estate.

Mrs. J. L. Brasher received a telegram last Friday calling her to the death-bed of her brother, F. M. Rice, at H. C. Mullen, Muhlenberg county. He died last Tuesday of typhoid fever. Just three months ago she lost another brother, who was fatally kicked by a mule.

Two dogs got into a dispute on Ninth street one day this week, and upset the city vehicle, which was being used by street Superintendent Twyman, and utterly demolished the instrument. After the canines had met upon the level, they settled their differences and parted on the square.

The Glasgow Normal School proposes to give 50 free scholarships—one in each of the counties lying within 100 miles of Glasgow—to be given by the County Superintendent to some worthy young man or woman who is not able to pay for an education. Those wishing to apply for the appointment in this county will call at Sept. 1st.

The Hopkinsville Building and Loan Association has a notice of money to lend in this issue. A good number of our citizens have already availed themselves of the advantages offered by this association and built themselves nice, comfortable homes and paid for them at a cost very little in excess of what they were paying for rent. Any one can own his own home and have it all paid for in about six years through the aid of this association.

The suit of Drs. Young & Gunn against Owen & Margeon, the proprietors of the Flying Jenny, to recover their bill of $50 for setting the leg of Jim Jarrett, the negro boy who had his leg broken, was decided Tuesday in favor of the defendants. Belle Jarrett, the boy's mother, has also brought suit against Messrs. Owen & Margeon for $10,000 damages, through her attorneys Brasher & Brasher. The defendants claim they can prove that Jarrett was trying to jump on the flying Jenny to steal a ride, although they had notices up warning all of the danger of trying to get on the machine while in motion.

RESIDENCE BURNED.

MAJ. J. O. FERRELL'S HOUSE ON SOUTH MAIN PARTIALLY DESTROYED.

Splendid Work of The Fire Company.

Maj. J. O. Ferrell's handsome new residence on South Main was partially destroyed by fire early Tuesday morning. Mr. J. B. Richards was coming down town at 6:30 o'clock when he observed dense clouds of smoke coming out of the north end of the third story or attic. He gave the alarm and ran into the house and notified Mrs. Ferrell, who was at breakfast in the dining room. Neighbors quickly arrived on the scene and began saving the household effects and by the time the fire department arrived the furniture had all been moved out. Two well-filled cisterns were convenient and the fire company went to work under the direction of their efficient chief and in half an hour had succeeded in extinguishing the fire. It was stopped before the roof fell in and consequently the lower rooms were not damaged enough to prevent the rebuilding of the house. The tin roof and cornice on the main building were torn off by the book and ladder company and the fire was fought from the inside. The great advantage of a hook and ladder brigade was clearly shown in this instance. The one-story department of the house and the front veranda were not injured much and can easily be repaired. The house was erected in 1887 at a cost of about $4,500 and was one of the best and handsomest buildings in the most popular residence portion of the city.

The house was insured for $4,000. Of this amount $2,000 was with the Hartford company, represented by W. F. Garnett and $2,000 with the London & Liverpool & Globe, Long, Winfree & Kelly agents. The furniture was also covered by a $1,000 policy in one of Mr. Garnett's companies, the National, of Hartford. The adjusters of these companies are now in the city and a prompt settlement is promised by them and Maj. Ferrell will at once rebuild. His school will not be interfered with, but temporary quarters will be provided for all boys who enter his boarding department.

Card of Thanks.

We desire publicly to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to our friends and the citizens generally, both white and colored, male and female, and to the members of the fire company for their efficient services in trying to save our dwelling and contents from the devouring flames. We thank you also for your kind and consoling expressions of sympathy in our misfortune.

J. O. FERRELL.
LESLIE A. FERRELL.

To the Public.

The exercises of my school as heretofore announced will open Monday Aug. 26. I expect within 30 days or less to have the damage done by fire to my dwelling on the 20th last so far repaired as to enable me to accommodate boarders in the rooms of the lower story of the house, which were not much injured by the fire. During this brief period boarders will be comfortably and kindly taken care of by some of my friends near my premises. None need stay away because I have been so unfortunate at this important time. I shall try to serve my patrons and friends as faithfully as heretofore and even more so if in my power. Asking a continuance of your confidence and patronage I am

Very Truly Yours,
J. O. Ferrell.

South Kentucky College.

This old and reliable institution of learning begins its forthright session Tuesday Sept. 3rd. Hopkinsville should be proud of having in her midst such a worthy school. We learn from President Scobey that the prospects for the coming term are fine. He looks for a large attendance. The faculty is composed of the following Professors and Teachers:

James E. Scobey, A. M., President, and Professor of Mathematics and Physics.

H. G. Fleming, Professor Sacred History, Christian Evidences and Logic.

A. C. Kuykendall, A. B., Prof. of Latin and Greek.

Miss Rosalie O. Lipscomb, B. S. Ph. D., Teacher English Literature, Classics, French and Natural Science.

Aug. G. Reibelt, Prof. of Music and Teacher of Piano.

Miss Ella C. Tatum, Teacher of Elocution, German and English.

Mrs. A. C. Kuykendall, Teacher of Art.

Miss Jennie Canabiss, Teacher of Preparatory Department.

Rev. Dr. Dicken, of Fairview, Ky., who occupied the pulpit of the First Baptist church Sunday morning and evening and also last evening, is a preacher of exceptional ability and power. At the Sunday night service the audience was especially large and attentive. The doctor's theme was the dignity and honor of the Christian profession, and his elucidation of the subject was brilliant and pleasing. It is the wish of many hearers that he shall come back again.—Paducah Standard.

VALUE OF PATIENCE.

Rob Burdette Gives Some Good Advice to an Eager Young Man.

Oh, my soul, be patient, be patient, be patient. We can get along without brilliant women and great men. They are not easy to live with; they don't mix with the broad very much, they have to have single parades for themselves away out of the reach of the rest of us, so that we don't see much of them, and they don't do the world very much good, after all. It's just as well that they keep away from us. I am patient. When they come down and mix with us we are apt to find them out. Then, good-bye, good-bye. We don't need rushing people, so very much. Here and there one or two of them are good things; we can't get along without a rush line of course, but, after all, a pull back, whose quiet eyes are on every part of the field at once without making any fuss about it, and who at every point in the game is always just exactly where he is wanted at exactly the right time, and is never anywhere else, no matter how much yelling and "rattling" and whooping and "serenading" is going on, on the front, the merry fellow who is never rattled, and has all his noise and breath and vim and strength saved up for the one important moment when it shall be necessary to send the ball away clear over the heads of the opposing players, sending it, after all, to the fellow to whom our eyes turn anxiously and hopefully when the crisis is reached. Be patient; the fretful, hurrying, eager, restless world needs our praises of thanksgiving to the patient people in it. To the patient man and woman who find strength in "quietness and confidence," who can be patient with our faults, our follies and our fancies; who can be quiet when even the softest word would have a sting; and the softest answer would stir up bitterness; who can wait for storms to blow over and for wrongs to right themselves; who can endure slight and injury with the unshaken heart has forgotten the hurt that made the sore. Be patient, my boy; be patient. Nobody else has time enough for it; all the rest of us are in such a hurry we can't stop and have no time to wait. Do you be patient for the whole crowd. And you'll wear all the rest of us out.—Robert J. Burdette, in Brooklyn Eagle.

Alfred in a Tight Place.

"Alfred, before we were married you told me you never swore, and yet in your sleep last night you used the most awful profane language I ever heard in my life."

(Cautiously) "What did I seem to be talking about, my dear?"

"You kept muttering something about 'quitting and confidence,' who can be patient with our faults, our follies and our fancies; who can be quiet when even the softest word would have a sting; and the softest answer would stir up bitterness; who can wait for storms to blow over and for wrongs to right themselves; who can endure slight and injury with the unshaken heart has forgotten the hurt that made the sore. Be patient, my boy; be patient. Nobody else has time enough for it; all the rest of us are in such a hurry we can't stop and have no time to wait. Do you be patient for the whole crowd. And you'll wear all the rest of us out."

"I dreamed I was in a battle."

Standing on Ceremony.

A middle-aged woman who had just slipped into a seat in a street car, made vacant for her by a gentleman, having neglected to thank him, was asked by her little daughter who was with her why she had not done so.

"My dear," whispered her mother, "people don't stand on ceremony in street cars."

"Oh! I see how it is," remarked the little one, quite audibly, "the gentleman stand away, without the ceremony."—Detroit Free Press.

Quits Work on Time.

Foreman—You might as well look for another job, Jerry.

Bricklayer—What for? What have I done?

"Your trowelful of mortar struck the owner of the building down on the first floor."

"Let him keep out of the way. If he falls he'll break his neck when I've got a trowelful of mortar I don't care where it drops."—Chicago Herald.

An Unprofitable Task.

Mrs. Gadd—You look tired, Mrs. Gadd. What is the matter?

Mrs. Gadd—Tired? I'm nearly dead. I've sat at my bath-room window for seven weeks right along, listening to the sounds in the paragonous next door, and I haven't heard a cross word yet.

—N. Y. Weekly.

Nearly five million persons in the United States depend for their living on the sale of liquor and tobacco.
